

FEUILLAGE

Collection Intrigue

Story behind the collection

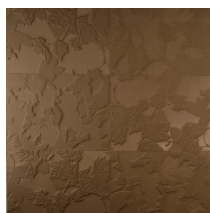

The Intrigue collection is the result of a process that we call thermoforming. As the word might suggest, heat is used to press a design into the fabric. By heating the fabric it acquires a luxurious satin sheen that reflects the light. It is fascinating to see and irresistible to touch. Moreover, as a result of the combination of materials used, this wallcovering will influence in a positive way the acoustics.
